Jerome Bassano was a member of the Italian family of musicians that lived in England and served in the court of Henry VIII and Queen Elizabeth I. He was also resident in the courts of James I and Charles I. The extant works attributed to Jerome include allemandes, fantasias and madrigals. They were orchestrated in five or six parts.

English musician. Son of Anthony Bassano, and grandson of Jeronimo Bassano (the Elder), the Venetian musician. Musician in Ordinary for recorder.

Anthony Bassano a 16th-century Italian musician born in Bassano del Grappa, Italy, one of six sons of Jeronimo Bassano (Anthony, Jacomo, Alvise, Jasper, John and Baptista) who moved from Venice to England to the household of Henry VIII to serve the court, probably in 1540.
